COOLNESS; A STORY ABOUT A HEAD.

Here is a Philadelphia story that we believe will be fresh in this quarter. Jake was a little negro, who belonged to Dr. Talliaferro; and was said to have in his little frame a heart as big as General Jackson's—to say nothing of Napoleon Bonaparte and Zack Taylor. He didn't fear even our respectable fellow citizen, Old Nick! and as for coolness—he was as cool as the tip-toe of the North Pole.

One day, Dr. Talliaferro, upon occasion of the commencement of a Medical College, of which he held the chair of Anatomy, gave a dinner. Among his guests was a well-known ventriloquist. Late in the evening, after the bottle had done its work, the conversation turned upon courage, and the Doctor boasted considerably of the lion-heart of his favorite man Jake. He offered to bet that nothing could scare him; and this bet the ventriloquist took up, naming at the same time the test he wanted imposed. Jake was sent for and came.

Jake, said the Doctor, I have bet a large sum of money on your head, and you must win it. Do you think you can? "Berry bell, marsler," replied Jake, "jest tell dis nigga what he's to do, an' he'll do it, shure."

"I want you to go to the dissecting room. You will find two dead bodies there. Cut off the head of one with a large knife which you will find there, and bring it to us. You must not take a light, however, and don't get frightened."

"Dat's all, is it?" inquired Jake. "Oh!—berry bell. I'll do dat shure for aarin'; and as for being frightened, de doctor himself ain't gwine to frighten me."

Jake accordingly set off, and reaching the dissecting room, groped about until he found the knife and the bodies. He had just applied the former to the neck of one of the latter, when from the body he was about to decapitate, a hollow and sepulchral voice exclaimed—

"Let my head alone!" "Yes, sah," replied Jake, "I ain't ticular, and tudder head 'll do jes as well."

He accordingly put the knife to the neck of the next corpse, when another voice, equally unearthly in its tone, shrieked out— "Let my head alone!"

Jake was puzzled at first; but answered presently— "Look a yah! Master Tolliver sed I mus bring one ob de heads, an' you isn't gwine to fool me, no how!" and Jake hacked away until he separated the head from the body.

Thereupon half a dozen voices screamed out— "Bring it back! Bring it back!" Jake had reached the door, but on hearing this, turned round, and said— "Now—now, see yah! Jes you keep quiet, you dam fool, an' don't wake up de women folks. Marsler's only gwine to look at the bumps."

"Bring back my head at once!" cried the voice. "Tend to you, right away, sah!" replied Jake, as he marched off with the head; and in the next minute deposited it before the Doctor.

"So you've got it, I see," said his master. "Yes, sah," replied the unmoved Jake but please be done lookin' at him soon, kase he gempin told me to fetch him back right away."

THE DAILY NEWS.

Newport:

FRIDAY APRIL 21, 1848.

BY O. F. JACKSON, 91-THAMES-ST.

Advertisers will please bear in mind that the circulation of the DAILY NEWS is more than DOUBLE that of the Daily Herald, and greater than the combined circulation of the Daily and Weekly Herald. As one proof of this fact, the list of Letters remaining in the Post-Office is advertised in the NEWS, as BY LAW REQUIRED.

The proceedings of the Court Martial at the city of Mexico have been important and interesting. The charges and specifications of Gen. Scott against Gen. Pillow are very long. They all refer to the celebrated Leonidas letter, with the authority of which Gen. Scott charges Gen. Pillow. The charge against Gen. Pillow is, that he gave a false account of the battles, for the purpose of glorifying himself and despoiling his brother officers of the honor due to their achievements. The first witness was Mr. Freaner, the correspondent of the New Orleans Delta. He stated that Gen. Pillow sought an interview with him on the day after the battle, and expressed an eagerness to get a report of the battles off to the United States as soon as possible, for the advantage of the first impressions, and wished Mr. Freaner to embody that paper in his letter to the Delta. This Mr. Freaner declined doing, but kept the paper, which subsequently fell into the hands of Gen. Scott. It was produced on the trial and identified by Mr. Freaner. Mr. Trist was next called as a witness. He had forwarded letters for Gen. Pillow, and recognized in portions of the Leonidas letter shown to witness, the hand writing of Gen. Pillow. Mr. Trist being asked if he entertained feelings of hostility or prejudice toward Gen. Pillow, replied that he had entertained the best feelings towards Gen. Pillow, and that the President of the United States, being an intimate friend of both, had given him a private letter of introduction to the General, and thereupon their relations and intercourse became very intimate. The following are extracts from Mr. Trist's testimony:

The only feeling of hostility which I entertained, are those arising from a studied attempt on his part to avail himself of the position in which I had been placed towards him by his [Gen. Pillow's] friend, Mr. Polk, to make me the accomplice and tool in a scheme of villany and imposture—of imposture towards our whole country, and villany towards individual officers of this army, the most audacious, by far, that I have any knowledge of.

Mr. Trist thus explains his meaning: "The schemes of villany to which I allude was a scheme of imposture for passing himself off upon the country for a skillful general and able commander. The way in which I was to be an accomplice in that game—a tool in it—and he led thus to deceive the country and do injustice towards individuals, was this:—availing himself of the relations established between us by the President, [alluded to before] and of the character which I had enjoyed with those who have known me for discretion, he would make me the confidential depository of his views, in anticipation of events, so that in case of failure in the operations which took place, I should be a living witness, bound to come forward as such at his call to the fact, that his military genius had penetrated through the whole thing, and that he had been opposed to every thing that failed. This game was played by him throughout, as I afterwards on reflection perceived."

Immediately upon discovering this alleged scheme on the part of Gen. Pillow, Mr. Trist wrote to Mr. Buchanan, as well as to the President, advising them not to confirm the nomination of Gen. Pillow, as he was a disgrace to the country and army. These letters, it appears, were subsequently communicated by Mr. Buchanan and the President, to Gen. Pillow; as necessary to his defence.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 18.—The capture and imprisonment of the fugitive slaves caused great excitement in this city. A large crowd assembled in front of the office of the New Era, the anti-slavery paper, smashing in the windows, breaking the doors, throwing bricks, &c., but was finally dispersed by the police.

The Hibernia carried out 92 passengers and $159,975 in specie.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The ship Duchess d'Orleans arrived at New York yesterday, with dates from Paris to the 26th of March, and London to the 25th.

It is reported that Prussia has declared herself a Republic.

The greatest excitement prevailed in Paris and Havre.

Large failures continue to take place throughout France.

The King of Berlin has been dethroned and put under arrest.

A revolution had broken out in Poland, and all political prisoners had been released.

The King of Hanover had granted all the demands of the people.

King Louis, of Munich, abdicated his throne on the 21st ult, in favor of the Prince Royal, and has gone to Sicily.

A revolution is announced in Genoa, which has detached itself from the Kingdom of Sardinia.

The steamer may be expected in New York to-day, with still later news of the result of the revolutionary spirit, which seems to have spread like wild-fire all over Europe.

TERIBLE STORM.—The Maysville Eagle of the 11th inst, gives an account of a tornado, which swept through Bracken and Mason counties, Ky, week before last. Fifteen barns, in one neighborhood, were blown down, and their contents scattered or destroyed. Orchards, forests, barns, out-houses, hay-stacks, and everything in its track, alike fell before the angry storm.

Numerous lives were endangered from its suddenness and violence; but the presence of mind of many persons, who threw themselves at full length upon the ground, saved them. A negro man had his arm broken short of, by being struck with a piece of timber from a barn, to which he had run for shelter. Four others, who had left the same barn, from a sense of danger, and screened themselves from the wind behind a log that lay across a branch, were immediately covered up by the branches of trees that fell around and over them, but without injury to them. One negro man was whirled some sixty paces through the air, and lodged in an orchard tree, which, fortunately, resisted the storm.

GREAT FIRE IN NEW YORK.—A fire occurred in New York on Tuesday night which was more destructive than any which has taken place since the great conflagration of 1845. It originated in a Cabinet Maker's shop, 118 Wooster street, and spread with such rapidity that ten or twelve three-story brick buildings were totally consumed before the flames could be subdued. The loss is estimated at $150,000. Insured $75,000.

OUTRAGE IN WOONSOCKET.—A placard was posted on the door of Edward Harris, at Woonsocket, last Monday evening, threatening him that unless he withdrew certain complaints that he had made for violation of the license law, he should share the fate of Amasa Sprague. On Tuesday evening a musket ball was fired into his window, but no injury was done. We have learned no further particulars of this bold attempt to murder, but we trust the police will be stimulated by an ample offer of reward to ferret out the men who are concerned in it.—Providence Journal

The robbers of the President of the Chesapeake County Bank have been arrested at Matamoros, Mexico—two men arrived there and one employed the other to purchase mules and the payments of the same were made exclusively in the Chesapeake County Bank money, which excited suspicion, and ultimately led to the arrest of both. Forty thousand dollars of the stolen funds have been recovered.

LETTERS TO MEXICO—CHANGE IN THE POST-OFFICE.—By an order from the Governor of Vera Cruz, the Post-office department will hereafter be conducted by the Mexican Postmaster Don J. M. Fernandez, under the Mexican law on postage. All letters received now at Vera Cruz for other persons than those belonging to the Army and Navy of the United States, will, during the armistice, be turned over to the Mexican Post-office Department.

The Protestants of Paris are understood to have made arrangements to secure the election of several of their own number to seats in the National Assembly. As a body, the French Protestants cherished no great affection for Louis Philippe. They were disappointed and deceived by the old King.

CONGRESSIONAL.—In the Senate, Wednesday, a bill allowing the line of steamers between New York and New Orleans to touch at Havana, for the purpose of procuring passengers, mails, &c., was read twice; also, a bill for the relief of Midshipman Rogers. A resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Finance to inquire into the expediency of coining quarter dimes and to discontinue the coining of cents. The bill relating to California claims, with amendments, was referred back from the committee, and was then informally passed over when the Senate laid aside the morning business, and took up the bill relating to the Judges of the United States Supreme Court.

HOUSE.—After the transaction of some routine business, Mr. Giddings, of Ohio, moved to suspend the rules, in order that he might offer a resolution for the appointment of a select committee to inquire why the seventy men, women, and children were cast into prison that morning, for attempting to escape from the bondage in which they were held, and who were found in the schooner Pearl, down the Potomac river. Objections were made, and the motion lost amid roars of laughter.

The Speaker announced the first thing on his table to be in order, were reports from committees, when a number of bills were reported, which were read twice and reported to the Committee of the Whole.

The House then proceeded to resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, and took up the contested election case between Mr. Jackson and Mr. Monroe, of New York. No action.

THE MINT EMBEZZLEMENT CASE.—The case of Randall Hutchinson, whose embezzlement of a large amount of money from the Philadelphia Mint, (in which he was employed,) came before the court on Monday, when it was decided that the acts of Congress against embezzlement do not reach the case of the defendant; that the indictment could not be supported by them, and a new trial must be granted. The district attorney thereupon entered a noli prosequi, as there were no grounds upon which a conviction can be urged.

INDemnIFICATION.—The N. Y. Express says that Cassius M. Clay, putting Congress for $1,337 in consequence of losses sustained by him, in being taken prisoner in Mexico, says that the enemy took his watch, which he puts down at $350; two suits of new clothes, at $120; and a dozen shirts, $90, besides bedding, pistols, &c.—And he tells Congress, in a P. S. to his petition, that he had two violins broken to pieces by the overturning of the wagon in Texas; but as he and the United States, have suffered alike in that unfortunate land, he asks for these no remuneration.

PENNSYLVANIA CROPS.—The German-town Telegraph says:

"The farmers, from various quarters, inform us that the wheat and rye looks unusually well at this time; and that if any judgement can be formed from their present appearance abundant crops may be anticipated. The oats is pretty generally sown, and more genial weather for the purpose has never been experienced. The ground devoted to this crop this year is larger than usual."

Morning service will be held in Trinity Church this day, being Good Friday, at half past ten o'clock. Evening service at three o'clock.

SHIPMENTS.—The shipments of cotton to Great Britain during the past week, says the New York Herald, have been comparatively large, and the exports to Great Britain generally were larger than usual. The France the shipments have been exceedingly light.

The French in New York, in token of their appreciation of the course of the city authorities relative to France, have presented the pair of beautiful tri-colored flags used at the demonstration in the Park.

Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

(Office No 21 Wall-st., N. Y.)

Advantages of the System of Life Insurance in this company.

1st. Those in good health, or of the proper age, and of sound constitution, will be insured at the lowest rate of premiums.

2d. The premium, if over $50, can be paid one-fourth in cash, and three-fourths in a secured note at 12 months, bearing 6 per cent. interest, and subject to assessments if required, or it may be paid weekly, monthly, or quarterly.

3d. Annual division of profits in scrip certificates which bear 6 per cent. interest, and it is required a loan of two-thirds on the scrip will be made in cash, or the profits can be added to increase the sum insured.

4th. No persons are liable beyond the amount of their premiums.

5th. Married women may insure the lives of their husbands, secure from any demands of their creditors, if the premium does not exceed $300 per annum.

6th. Creditors may insure their debtors, or debtors themselves, for the protection of creditors.

7th. An insurance can be made so that the sum insured will be paid on attaining a specified age, or sooner in the event of death.

8th. All claims on policies will be paid three months after notice and proof of death.

9th. No risk will be taken on any one life exceeding $50,000, until the surplus profits amount to $50,000; then the amount of risk on a single life will be gradually extended as the funds of the Company augment.

10th. No Director or Officer can obtain a loan of the Company.

11th. When the net profits of the Company amount to $200,000, the excess will be applied towards the redemption of Scrip, giving priority to that first issued; but the amount of $200,000, in addition to the reinsurance fund, will be kept as a permanent fund, in which the members have a pro rata interest.

12th. The funds of the Company to be invested by the Finance Committee, in bonds, and first mortgages on unencumbered real estate, the actual value of which is twice the amount loaned, or in stocks of the United States, or of the States of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, and Maine, or loaned to members on their Scrip.

13th. No part of the profits is withheld, or diverted from the assured in any way.

14th. There is no stock, or loan, either nominal or real, to pay interest for; the company having ample capital in the premiums received.

15th. It enables a man to provide for a wife and children, in such a way, that although he may lose all, they are safe; and all persons, whether married or unmarried, to provide for old age, sickness, and want as well as for death.

16th. It does not reckon the assured a year older than he is—but from six months less, to six months more, so as to equalize the same between all parties.

17th. It pays no directors, auditors, or solicitors.

18th. A portion of the directors and the officers are chosen yearly, and the members vote according to interest.

19th. The assured can surrender the policy at any time after a term of years, and receive its equitable value.

20th. Every precaution is taken to prevent a forfeiture of policy.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, is authorized by its charter to make all and every insurance appertaining to or connected with Life risks, of whatever kind or nature, and will grant annuities and make endowments, as by the Act of Incorporation, passed the 30th January, 1845.

The Directors of this Company, deeply impressed with the very great, useful, and growing importance to the community at large of Life Insurance, would call to the attention of the public to the following observations and principles, as intended to explain to them its peculiar advantages, and the particular features of this valuable institution.

It is seen above how extensive the privileges are, reaching to every risk appertaining to or connected with life; guarding and supporting infancy to old age, in all grades of professions and trades; orphans, widows and their children, by a small annual investment, on the principle of Mutual Benefit, arising from Mutual Insurance, being a self-protective society. In this there is no Money Stock; the funds or capital arise from premiums paid in when persons make insurance, and these form the means to make payments on policies, grant bounties, pay expenses, and yield profits.

All persons insured become members, but are not liable beyond the amount of the premiums to be paid by them. The books of the company are open to them, to see that the sums paid, or securities received, and the net profits, at fixed periods, are divided among them; as hereafter explained. The table of figures, and the rules, are made and calculated with accuracy, after the experience and practice of old English companies; and all persons can see by them how much they have to pay, and the gains they will be likely to receive. This plan puts at the disposal of the Savings Bank and Mutual interests, affording the security of the one, and gain of the other, and is entirely beneficial in its operations; it also embraces a provision for Married Women to insure the lives of their husbands for any amount, the premium of which shall not exceed $300 per annum, and is secured to them against any demands in law, or of creditors.

The greatest portion of society, who by daily exertions in an every day support, as artisans and mechanics, deriving livelihood from personal labor, and skill, seldom resort to Life Insurance; in any numbers, for a future provision for their families, though to none would it be so important as to them, who, by sickness and death, may in a day, leave those nearest and dearest to them in poverty. To men in mercantile pursuits and those in professional business of every rank and class, or those who have uncertain or small incomes, and who are most numerous in wealth in the aggregate, and have it in their power to provide against the vicissitudes they are constantly exposed to, Life Insurance is also of the utmost importance; they, and those in lower circumstances, are often deterred from entering into contracts of insurance, as the advantages appear remote—being contingent on death; or ability to pay the premiums.

To assist all such, this Mutual Benefit society can arrange the payment of the premiums, and of returns, in part of the same, as to enable all persons to become members, and enjoy its advantages while living; thus protecting themselves in life, and providing for their families after their death; in this way a short life may obtain, and leave to their heirs the benefit of a long one.

This Company will grant insurance on lives, on the Mutual principle, to applicants upon their own lives, or the lives of others, for the whole duration of life, or for a limited period, at the rates specified in the tables, for sound and healthy persons.

Also, any person in sound health may insure $500 for life upon his own or his wife's life, or the wife upon the life of her husband, of the age of thirty years, (and in like proportion for other ages,) by paying 25 cents weekly, or on $1000 by paying 50 cents weekly, the policy always remaining with the Company, with the premiums paid endorsed thereon; and in case of death they will be entitled to the amount thus insured, deducting therefrom the balance remaining of weekly payments, with interest, for the current year. No risk will be taken on a single life for more than $5,000, until the profits of the Company amount to $50,000, after which, according to the profits, the amount will be gradually extended to a sum not exceeding $15,000.

The better to enable all persons to insure, the Company will annually issue Scrip certificates, of estimated profits, bearing interest at 6 per cent.—Whenever the accumulation of net profits of the Company shall exceed the sum of $200,000, the excess may be applied from year to year, or semi-annually thereafter, towards the redemption of each year's certificates of scrip, in whole or in part, as may be determined on by the board of directors; priority to be given to the scrip first issued. The insured may borrow from the Company on his scrip, two thirds of the amount of the same at any time, which will enable him to use a portion of his profits for the payment of his annual premium, even before the redemption of the scrip. All classes of persons will thus be admitted and enabled to meet the premiums, and have the gain of the Savings Bank, with the profit on a large business, by an actual small investment or outlay of money.

All claims for insurance will be paid three months after satisfactory evidence of the death of the person deceased is exhibited and approved. Should it any time be desirable for a person to sell his policy, where it is for life, the Company will purchase the same at an equitable rate.

Parties insured at the table rates of premiums, are not to pass south of the Southern line of Virginia and Kentucky, or east of the Mississippi River, between the first day of June and first day of November; but can visit any part of the United States or Northern British Provinces, between the first of November and first of June. By the payment of an extra premium, insurances can be effected by persons who desire to reside South during the interdicted time.

All persons whose lives are insured by this Company, are permitted to travel on any of the regular mail routes, (within the limits prescribed in the policy) or on any of the Northern or Upper Lakes, by steamboat, or other common mode of conveyance.

Extra hazardous risks will be taken on persons going out, or residing out of the limits of the policy, and embracing all parts of the world; also on all persons going to sea, and such other risks as may be specially agreed for, being more hazardous, to be expressed in their policies. The extra premiums to be computed upon equitable principles.

Insurances will be made on the lives of Military and Naval Officers, off or on duty, in time of peace, the premium to be settled according to circumstances of climate, locality, &c., as they may be more or less hazardous.

What can better illustrate the wise disposition of the Supreme Being, in the varying term of human life, than the certainty of the general laws that regulate its duration, and the reflection is that arise from the contemplation of these laws operating constantly upon the human race? Life Insurance then rests upon the simple fact, that every individual of the human race has, at the period of his birth, a certain term of existence, which he will live through, or what is called the mean duration, or expectation of life at birth.

It is a question how such term of existence, or mean duration, is found. This is done simply by taking the number of years that have been lived through by a party from birth to death, and also of 1000 others born at the same time, and dying at all ages from 1 to 100 years old—the number of years thus lived by each person is added into one sum and being divided by the number of persons, the mean duration of the life of man is ascertained. If it were found on trial, that on taking the result of the lives of 1,000 or 10,000 individuals, and deducting the mean duration, and then going through the same process with like numbers, and the mean duration of the latter differed widely from the former, it would be to no purpose to follow out experiments; but this is not the fact, and in nothing is the uniformity of the general laws of nature more powerfully exemplified, than in regulating the period of human existence. The result of experience is constant, that two bodies of individuals, each of 1000, living in the same country, and of similar occupations, have each a period of mean duration, which differs only a trifle from that of the other body. Apply this to insurance on life in the same body of persons; they pay a small sum or premium, annually, and the office, or Company, agrees to pay them annually a profit, and a certain sum at the death of each; as, by example, the average expectancy of life is found by experience, to be of a person in health of 25 years, 38 years more; and of 40 years 25 years longer; then by the tables of rates, the first has to pay $20-40-100 a year during his life, to secure $1000 to be paid to his wife or children after his death; the second pays $32, to insure the same; then taking the gain of interest, and other items, that make up the profits on Mutual Benefit, it is almost certain the amount of $1000 insured will be much increased, when in the end it is to be paid to his heirs, all which is firmly established by the facts of experience. Life Insurance, therefore, on Mutual Benefit, is not a fictitious scheme to draw people into, for money-making purposes. Such an idea, if it exists, is most incorrect, and dissolved at once by the very fact, that this is a Mutual Benefit Company, and consequently any person taking out a policy, becomes a member by a small annual payment, and has a joint interest in its concerns, and a voice in its management.—Founded on scientific principles, exemplified by experience, its real services then to all classes of persons, who are dependent on certain incomes, or salaries, professions, mechanical skill, or daily labor cannot be denied; and it has proved essentially beneficial to the families of such, in event of death, and is therefore an institution ranking among the noblest works of benevolence in the world.

Such being the equitable and beneficial principles on which Mutual Life Insurance is established, it presents a most suitable and favorable means of providing for the endearing and dependent lives of children; for what is the situation of a man, who, for the gratification of his affections, surrounds himself with a wife and children, and lives in the enjoyment of those valued blessings, and knowing that in an instant, the cessation of his life may throw them into a state of destitution? The neglect, then, of such a cheerful and certain provision, is gross improvidence; for it is not his life's absolute duty, to provide while he lives the daily bread for his family; than it is against leaving them to suffer penurious misery in the event of his death. It is then a religious as well as moral duty, to be easily accomplished by weekly, monthly, or yearly earnings—and this Life Insurance of Mutual Benefit, is the protection against such dreadful evils.

The observations and explanations above made on the principles of Life Insurance generally, and particularly the great and very superior advantages exhibited to the public by insuring in this Mutual Benefit Company; the credit which policies will give to men in trade; the gain it may be to all classes in their business vocations, and the duty of all to provide for their families, should induce every person to give this subject a careful consideration, remembering the injunction of Scripture, that "if any provide not for his own, and especially for them of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

Hyer's Pills.

The American Improved Hygienic Vegetable

Medicine.

SAFE, CHEAP AND EFFECTIVE.

This medicine makes no pretensions to miracle. It cures, the raising of the dead, or to increase and astound sales daily and hourly, after the most approved method of the times; but bases all its claims upon plain common sense principles, as a simple aim to nature in restoring the human system to its proper tone and action, when by carelessness or unavoidable circumstances it has become deranged or debilitated, and asks simply a faithful trial as a test of its curative properties.—During the last twenty years it has worked its way into extensive use, wholly upon its own merits, by commendation from individual to individual, not having been advertised for more than twelve years till within the past few months—save occasionally in a journal of which this present proprietor is Editor. The increasing demand, however, has measurably compelled greater attention to its business, and agencies are now being established throughout the country.

A faithful trial of a half dollar or dollar package is almost certain to secure use in every family where it is introduced, where medicine is needed.

The undersigned has used it in his own family for more than fifteen years—has knowledge of its approved use in many others, (for periods varying from months to fifteen or sixteen years,) as their only medicine, and knows it to be valuable in most of the complaints incident to the human system. But a long or extravagant commendation is not designed or needed here. Ten thousand mere assertions in its favor will not make it valuable, or satisfy reasonable persons without a trial; for the proof after all, must lie in the use of it. Try it, then. Read, try, and then judge.

The Good Things of the Season,

FOR

Parties, Holiday Presents, &c.

WINTER evenings and YOUNG'S Variety Store form pleasant associations for the inhabitants of Newport. There is nothing so scarce as that can contribute to the comfort of all, that cannot be obtained at this store, and all as low and a great many much less than can be bought elsewhere in Newport. For example, we will attach the following prices, and every article is warranted.

Western Apples from $1 75 to $2 12 per bush; shell-barks $2 per bush; peanuts $1 62 per bush; chestnuts from four to five dollars per bush; almonds one shilling per pound; new raisins, figs, dates and currants 124 cts per pound; we sell these last named articles at wholesale prices. Prunes 20 cts per pound; grapes 25 cts; new citron 28 cts; preserved ginger $1 12 per jar, or 30 cts per pound, in small quantities; candies and all kinds of confectionery cheaper than they have ever been sold at any other store in town, at wholesale and retail, always fresh and of the finest quality; for the truth of this we wish every one to come and judge for themselves.

This is no idle advertisement, merely to draw people to my store to disappoint them, but a plain statement of facts, which all may ascertain by calling. Also several kinds of Cough Candy, warranted equal to any now in use, for the cure of all kinds of complaints arising from colds.

Fancy articles and toys of every description, in any quantity, such as silk purses, pocket books, cigar cases, pocket knives, saws, razors, razor strops, hair, clothes, tooth, and shoe brushes, fancy work boxes, walking canes, dominoes, dice, conversation cards, French and Highland do, combs of all kinds, cologne, hair oil and pomatum, cigars, tobacco, and everything that is ever kept in a confectionary and variety store.

Brownell's Cooking Range.

THE subscriber has just completed the invention of a new Cooking Range, to which he invites the attention of the public. This Range possesses qualities for expeditious boiling and cooking that other Ranges do not, and it occupies but a small space of room.

Brownell's Cooking Range has six eight inch boilers, any two, or four of which, can be thrown into one, so as to admit of a large boiler; and it is provided with a set of rings so that any size furniture can be used on it. Its Oven is large, convenient of access, and having an upward draft, it bakes evenly with a small quantity of fuel.

One of these Ranges is in successful operation at the store of the subscriber, subject to the examination of the public, who are invited to call and take a look at it. WILLIAM BROWNELL.

Coggeshall & Bliss' Patent Cooking Range.

THE subscriber has just taken out letters patent for a new and beautiful cooking Range, to which they invite the attention of the public. This Range may be set in the ordinary fire place, and by a simple, though effectual apparatus, the throat of the chimney may in an instant of time, be opened or closed, so that the heat in summer and the fumes from cooking at all times may escape through the chimney.

Wood or coal may be used, and the evil of smoking chimneys is completely remedied by its introduction. This Range is so constructed that it takes up but a small space, and yet it contains all the qualities of those which take up double the amount; and it being constructed as it is, the Boilers are brought in close proximity with the fire, and it consequently boils much sooner, and with a smaller amount of fuel, than the old fashioned Ranges, or co. stoves. It contains five boilers, four of which may be converted into two, by taking out a cross piece, and thus will admit of two large boilers at the same time. It also contains and Oven 12 inches wide by 21 deep, which cannot be surpassed for baking.

The subscriber has one of these Ranges in operation at his store, where the public are invited to call and examine it. If they will, they must at once discover its utility. He also keeps constantly on hand all kinds of Parlor, Office, and Cook Stoves, Tin Ware, &c., &c.
